

Winter Series 2021

Listowel Writers' Week is delighted to bring you Listowel's Revolutionary Period 1913-1923, Saturday 27th November 2021 at 1pm

Guest speakers include Dr Mary McAuliffe, Tom Dillon and Gabriel Fitzmaurice. The Tour begins at the Kerry Writers' Museum, departing at 1pm, visiting the Square, William Street and Church Street, finishing at St John's Theatre with a talk by Dr Mary McAuliffe.

The tour will capture Listowel's protracted and terrible fight for independence which pitted locals against the British and the locals against themselves. These events will be described by historians, interspersed with songs and drama relating to the revolutionary era.

Booking is essential as numbers are limited! Please comply with current covid restrictions. Please phone 068 22212 or call into Kerry Writers' Museum to book.

Kindly sponsored by the Arts Council, Failte Ireland and Kerry County Council. Appreciation is extended to the Tours & Walks Committee for all of their work on this event.
